Nine persons were flown by helicopter to the U. S. Public Health Services Hospital in New Orleans and officials said more were on the way. At least one was in "very serious" condition.

The bodies of three crewmen were still pinned in the wreckage of the Corsair more than six hours after the collision.
The master of the Corsair, three of its holds flooded and taking water fast, had his ship run aground to prevent it from sinking. The 8,480-ton ship's huge motors continued to pound away after the wreck, to keep the ship from drifting free of the beach.

THE LORENZO, a 6,100 ton Italian ship registered in Venice, was stearning slowly towards New Orleans, 30 feet of its bow crumpled like "a smashed banana," accoring to the Coast Guard.

The terrific force of the collision left a gash about 135 feet long in the side of the Corsair, at the level of the staterooms where most of the passengers and crew were sleeping. It happened

You'd think the group had been together for years instead of the three months in rehearsal it has had.

There is also a new Allen "horn"—the vibraphone — and it is with this that Allen seems to have a musical camaraderie — plus a musical camaraderie — plus a musical background — that is both deep and intense.

What it nets, for Biltmore patrons, is a group that plays everything in the book with verve and imagination.

There is also a new Allen "horn"—the vibraphone — and it is with this that Allen seems to have welded the cohesiveness I mentioned in Peragraph One. The ball works such things as "Dancing on the Ceiling." "The Lady Is a Tramp" and "Misty." all with splendid coordination and control. Letters to the Editor

Editor's Note: The following nection it is extremely interestletter, sent to Gov. Brown, has been made available to The Des-ert Sun for publication. Mr. payers Association and a mem-ber of the board of directors

Edmund G. Brown, Governor, Sacramento, California. "Buying a pig in a poke."

You are asking voters to ap-prove a one and three quarters BILLION dollar General Obligation Bond issue on November 8th. This is Proposition ONE. This is by far the largest bond issue ever proposed in the history of this State.

This bond issue is offered as one that will be self supporting.

As written, SB 1105 makes such claim which is only theory. Expected receiving supposed to pected revenues are supposed to be sufficient to pay interest on, and subsequently, retire the se bonds. I do NOT agree with this theory. I offer the following facts to prove my position.

First. No survey has been made to find out just HOW MUCH revenue will accrue from the sale of water and power by the State. Contracts to purchase water and or power have not been signed wherein Cities, not been signed wherein Cities, Counties, or other political sub-divisions have agreed to buy either water or power. The price for water and power has not been set which may account in some measure for tance to sign. Not the smallest user of water or electricity would think of signing up for service for these commodities without FIRST KNOWING WHAT THEY WOULD COST.

THEY WOULD COST.
Second. The largest user of water, The Metropolitan Water District, who will have to pay somewhere between 60 and 70 per cent of the cost of this huge project, refuses to sign as of this date, for reasons best known to you.

Third, Controversy has raged thru-out the State, Many organizations have "approved" Proposition ONE after agonizing debate and with divided votes of their members or directors. The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce is one of those. It is my understanding that their Board of Directors reversed a 2 to 1 understanding that their Board of Directors reversed a 2 to 1 vote of its State and Local Government Committee to OPPOSE the bonds. This reversal was only the second or third such reversal of this committee in many years. It would be interesting to know the reasoning behind their actions. In this coning to know that the Chairman of the State and Local Govern-Commerce. He is a most astute commerce. He is a most asture and highly respected citizen who has a deep interest in pro-tacting the best interests of all tax payers, both large and small. Too, the Secretary of the State and Local Government Committee is without a peer as a researcher. (I was a member of the State and Local Government committee for some years). The facts presented by the secretary unquestionably were responsible for their opposition to Proposition ONE, the Water Bonds, and are proof positive of the accuracy of her (the secretary) research. Fourth. Facts have been given surveys of potential income to pay the interest and this one and three quarters BILLION dollar bond issue and their subsequent retirement in 40 years. (My guess is that it will take 50 to 60 years and cost not Two and three quarters BILLION dollars, but well over THREE BILLION before final completion of the work.)

Fifth. Let us assume that the State can sell at various times the tremendous sums of Bonds without glutting the Bond Market. (There are serious divisions of opinions by experts on this point). Let us assume farther that they can market these bonds and pay only 3½ percent interest thereon. Here therefore is the total costs, and the AVER-AGE YEARLY EXPENSE TO THE STATE. Interest at 3½ per cent on One and three quarters Billions of dollars paid to year weath append to year. ters Billions of dollars paid over 40 years would amount to One BILLION two hundred and twenty five million dollars. Re-deeming the full issue of One and three quarters BILLION DOLLARS of Bonds would make a total cost of TWO BILLION nine hundred and seventy five million dollars. THE AVERAGE YEARLY INTEREST AND RE-DEMPTION COST WOULD BE SEVENTY FOUR MILLION THREE HUNDRED SEVENTY

THREE HUNDRED SEVENTY FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS.
After the foregoing facts are known it is painfully evident that the State would have to sell a tremendous amount of water and power to balance the accounts and pay off the bonds without charging it back to the taxpayers. Do you really think it can be done?

Mr. Brown

Mr. Brown why have facts of to assist. this nature not been given to the public? Was the failure to do so, deliberate, Mr. Brown? Were you trying to confuse the voters so thoroughly that they would approve the se Bonds whether they understood or not? My hunch is that the usual good judgment of our voters will pre-vail and they will NOT approve Proposition ONE.

As if this bond issue were not enough, I understand there are some liberal spending bills ready for the hopper next year which will add perhaps a hundred million more to our present huge

There's one thing I cannot understand. Why Mayor Norris Poulson went along with you on approving these Water Bonds. He showed much more wisdom on the 59 million plus general ob-ligation bond issue to improve International and Van Nuys air ports. He insists that a charter amendment be adopted along with the bonds requiring that all revenues after normal main tenance and depreciation (with no capital expenditues allowed) be placed in a fund and monies from that fund could only be disbursed for bond redemption and interest. Result; After three years of such operation, all in-terest charges on outstanding bonds have been paid, and there is, happily, a substantial sum remaining for future needs. This is what should be written into SB 1106. It is a real protection to the tax payer and his pocket-

This writer has been an ardent supporter of economy government expenditures, for more than 20 years. Bond issues like the one in question where the small taxpayer may wind up "paying the tab" are what whets my interest. That

One only one premise are we in agreement. WE WILL NEED WATER. However we do not need it so badly that an 18 month to two year delay will cause serious shortages. Should the voters refuse to approve your bonds, you can re-write SB 1106 to include the suggestions mentioned herein with particular respect to handling of revenue and their disbursement only for bond interest and redempfor bond interest and redemp-tion, also take the time to make contracts for water and power sales and see wheher you will have sufficient revenue to pay off the bonds and interest. If off the bonds and interest. II you do these things, you can submit your bond issue again and it will pass without question. Also I will do everything I can

Thick of the Campaign

WASHINGTON — UPD — The presidential candidates don't spend much time in the voteless capital except to drop in now and then for a change of linen and a seance with their ghost writers.

That does not mean, however, that this unfranchised city is not in the thick of the campaign. Every day at high noon, publicists for the Republican and Democratic National Committees meet in the street and blaze away at each other with mimeo-graph machines.

The GOP publicity mill, awe-some enough in its own right, was augmented by a perpetual motion handout grinder privately owned by Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R.N.Y., a leading practitioner of saturation technique.

KEATING OFFICE distributed eparate releases for Saturday separate releases for Saturday morning, Saturday afternoon, Sunday and Monday morning newspapers, thus supplying some thing for every edition.

The Democrats had nothing to match this in singles competition whough they found a strong con-tender in Mrs. Jacqueline Ken-nedy, who came through with her "Campaign Wife" column and announced a national "Call-ing for Kennedy" week as well.

IN ADDITION, the Democratic Advisory Council zeroed in on the Sunday papers with a policy report en natural resources. It was, to be sure, only one report, but the report was 37 pages long. It remained to be seen whether this broadside method would offset Keating's scattergun delivery. Meanwhile, the two national committees stepped up the pace of their contest to see which could form the largest number of satellite groups before election

Wilson feel that just as it is practically impossible to go undefeation the NFL, so is it inevitable to go for too long a streetch without victory. At least, they're hoping that Sunday is THE day. The Cleveland Browns, only team in the league with a perfect record thus far, play at home against the Philiadelphia Eagles in an important Eastern Division game. The Eagles, with a 3-1 record, need a victory to stay "alive" in the race. But the Browns, who won their first meeting, 41-24, in Philadelphie, are 10-point favorites.

IN OTHER NFL GAMES, the IN OTHER NFL GAMES, the Green Bay Packers were favored by 9 points over the San Francisco Forty - Niners at Milwaukee; the Pittsburgh Steelers, with quarterback Bobby Layne a doubtful starter because of an injured thumb, were rated even with the Redskins at Washington; and the St. Louis Cardinals were picked by 10 at home against the winless Dalla Cowboys.
